MCC to use LiDAR tech to map properties

Come April 2026, City Corporation to roll out advanced technology for accurate data, curb building violations, boost tax revenue

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (RK&BCT)- In a first for Mysuru, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is set to implement Aerial LiDAR (Light Detection And Ranging) technology from April 2026 to gather highly accurate data on property boundaries, building dimensions, number of floors, land use changes, lakes, drains (nalas) and other water bodies — a move aimed at tackling illegal encroachments and improving tax assessments.

Preparations are already underway at the MCC to roll out this advanced technology. "With LiDAR-based GIS property mapping, we can ensure accurate property assessments. This technology will enable us to precisely measure property sizes and structures, leading to fairer tax rates and improved revenue generation," MCC Commissioner Shaikh Tanveer Asif told Star of Mysore this morning.

More accurate than traditional surveys

Traditional survey and mapping methods depend on manual inspections or outdated aerial photographs, often missing smaller details and resulting in inaccurate assessments. "LiDAR will allow us to identify new or unreported structures, ensuring that every taxable property is accounted for," he explained.

(See LIDAR on page 7)

How Aerial LiDAR Works

Aerial LiDAR works by emitting thousands of laser pulses per second from a sensor mounted on an aircraft, drone or helicopter. These pulses travel to the ground and bounce off surfaces such as trees, buildings and terrain.

The sensor records the time it takes for each pulse to return, enabling highly precise distance calculations. This data is then used to create a dense 3D point cloud that maps the contours and features of the landscape in remarkable detail. What makes aerial LiDAR especially powerful is its centimetre-level accuracy and speed. It can cover large areas quickly while capturing fine surface details.

Twin Tragedy...

Youth tries to rescue another falling youth; both fall to death

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (RK&KS)- In a tragic incident at B.M. Habitat Mall in Jayalakshmipuram last evening, two youths lost their lives after falling from the fourth floor — one while removing a banner and the other while attempting to rescue him.

The deceased have been identified as Sunil (35), a resident of Neralakuppe village in Hunsur taluk and Chandru (22), a resident of Gokulam in city.

According to reports, a senior mall staff was changing the banner and Sunil was his assistant. The senior told him not to step further as false ceiling was made of Plaster of Paris (PoP) and it would not hold his weight.

Sunil slipped and stepped on the PoP which caved in, but he managed to cling to a metal ramp and screamed for help. His senior was also holding him while a ladder was being brought.

Meanwhile, one Chandru, who was at the mall with his friends, to watch a movie decided to help and rushed forward and jumped onto the PoP without knowing that PoP would not hold his weight.

Chandru plunged to the floor below. This commotion caused the person, who was holding Sunil, to panic and let go. Sunil also could not hold on to the ramp and he too fell to his death.

Jayalakshmipuram Inspector Kumar and his team rushed to the scene, conducted a mahazar and shifted Chandru to a private hospital.

Despite efforts to save him, Chandru succumbed to his injuries late last night.

Preliminary investigations revealed that Sunil was not wearing any safety equipment.

Meanwhile, Chandru's father, Veerabhadra Shetty, filed a complaint at Jayalakshmipuram Police Station. Police have arrested Sridhar, the building manager, on charges of negligence, confirmed NR Sub-Division ACP C.K. Ashwathnarayan.

RETURNING THE SOUL TO GOD: Coveting others' belongings without their knowledge is a form of stealing that arises from seeking personal enjoyment. In the same way, the soul within us belongs exclusively to God. When people forget this truth and use the soul for their own pleasure, scriptures teach that it is akin to stealing from God — a concept known as Aatma apaharam or stealing the soul. Swami Vedanta Desika highlights this idea in "Devanayaka Panchasath," particularly in the sloka Aatmapahara rasike.

Valayapettai Sri Ramachariar said the ultimate act of restoring the soul to God is achieved through an Acharya, a practice called Bhara Nyasam. This act is likened to a marriage: the soul is the bride, the Acharya is the bride's father and God is the bridegroom. Swami Vedanta Desika refers to this as Aatma Vivaham in the sloka Datta: praja from Saranagathi Deepikai. Bhara Nyasam serves as the gateway to seeking permission to serve God, both now and hereafter, signifying the highest protection for the soul: returning it to its rightful owner, God.

Surrender — referred to as Saranagathi, Bhara Nyasam or Prapatthi — is the chosen method for restoring the soul. There are two types: Aartha Prapatthi, where noble souls achieve liberation immediately and Druptha Prapatthi intended for ordinary people, in which surrender is realised at the end of life. The unique benefit of Saranagathi is that it erases all past and present sins, frees us from bondage and ensures liberation from rebirth. Even after surrender, if a person errs, it is believed that God offers gentle correction and accepts the soul. Thus, returning the soul to God leads to ultimate spiritual safety and fulfilment.— In The Hindu

Mysterious sailboat found on beach

Myrtle Beach: Visitors to a South Carolina beach came across an unusual hazard on the coastline: an unattended sailboat washed up onto the sand.

The Horry County Police Department said on social media that the boat was found on the beach near the Ocean Creek Resort in Myrtle Beach.

Police urged members of the public to avoid the area, but many curious witnesses gathered on the beach to take photos of the vessel. It was unclear how the boat came to be on the beach, but some witnesses reported seeing it floating in the ocean before it came ashore.

The boat was removed by a salvage company contracted by the owner.

Kickball played for 52 hours breaks record

Fairburn: A Georgia nonprofit earned its third Guinness World Records title by playing a game of kickball that went on for 52 consecutive hours.

Men Opposing Sex Trafficking (MOST), gathered 27 men and 13 women to start a game of kickball at 8 am on Friday in Fairburn, Ga. and the game continued for 52 straight hours.

Bruce Deel, Founder and Chief Executive of MOST, said the record attempt raised more than 2,00,000 dollars.

The team officially earned the Guinness World Records title for the longest marathon playing kickball. MOST previously earned the records for longest softball game and longest basketball game, but the latest was the first attempt to include female players.

"Ultimately, our objective is to raise awareness about the scourge of sex trafficking and provide the tools for everyday people to help stamp it out," Deel said.

Don't spoil natural beauty of Kukkarahalli Lake walking path

Sir,

Kukkarahalli Lake is a beautiful ecosystem located in the heart of Mysuru city. It is home to a rich variety of species, including birds, insects, bats, reptiles, squirrels, crows and even some small wild cats. Occasionally, pigs manage to dig under the fence and enter the Lake premises and hundreds of stray dogs are also seen wandering around.

Kindly do not introduce any concrete construction in this beautiful natural park, as it would disturb the serene environment.

The only enhancement needed is to plant beautiful hedge plants all along the walking track.

As a reader rightly pointed out in her letter, paved interlock bricks are harmful to both the knees and the lower back. Therefore, please leave the mud track as it is and refrain from making any changes.

The only request is to install a good RO drinking water machine near the security cabin at all three gates for the convenience of walkers and visitors.

Actress fined Rs. 1.14 lakh for carrying jasmine at Melbourne Airport

New Delhi, Sept. 9 (Agencies)- Women wearing flowers in their hair is a common sight in South India. However, jasmine is not welcome in every part of the world, especially in Australia. Malayali actress Navya Nair was fined Rs. 1.14 lakh for carrying jasmine at Melbourne Airport.

During her recent trip to Australia to participate in the Onam celebrations organised by the Malayali Association of Victoria, Navya was stopped at Melbourne International Airport. She was fined over Rs. 1 lakh for carrying a 15-cm-long jasmine gajra.

"Before I came here, it was my father who bought jasmine for me. He cut it into two parts and gave it to me. He asked me to wear one in my hair from Kochi to Singapore, since it would wither by the time I reached. He told me to keep the second one in my handbag so I could wear it on the onward journey from Singapore. I put it in my carry bag," Navya shared during a public event.

"What I did was against the law. It was a mistake I made unknowingly. However, ignorance is no excuse. For bringing a 15 cm jasmine string, officials asked me to pay a fine of AUD 1,980 (Rs. 1.14 lakh). A mistake is a mistake, though it was not intentional. They told me the fine must be paid within 28 days," she added.

The incident didn't dampen Navya's festive spirit, as she shared a reel showing her Onam celebrations.

Dr. Giridhar Parvatam takes charge as new Director of CSIR-CFTRI

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BCT)- The Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), under the Ministry of Science and Technology, New Delhi, has appointed Dr. Giridhar Parvatam as the new Director of CSIR-Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), Mysuru.

He took charge from the previous Director Dr. Sridevi Annapurna Singh on Sept. 8.

Dr. Parvatam, 56, currently serves as Chief Scientist and Head of the FSAQCL Department at CFTRI. He holds an M.Sc. in Botany (Microbiology) and a Ph.D from Kakatiya University, Warangal. Since joining CFTRI as Scientist 'B' in 1999, he has held several key positions and also serves as a Professor at the Academy of Scientific and Innovative Research (AcSIR).

Dr. Giridhar Parvatam

A distinguished researcher in food science, microbiology and biotechnology, Dr. Parvatam is a Fellow of multiple prestigious bodies, including the Royal Society of Biology (UK), the National Academy of Biological Sciences and the Association of Food Scientists and Technologists.

He is also an elected member of the National Academy of Sciences, Allahabad, and the Plant Tissue Culture Association of India.

His accolades include the Prof. V. Puri Commemorative Medal (Indian Botanical Society, 2021), Outstanding Scientist Award (Society of Tropical Agriculture) and the Lalji Godhoo Smarak Nidhi Award (AFSTI), among others.

With over 8,000 citations and 217 publications to his credit — including 53 H-index and 141 i10-index papers — Dr. Giridhar Parvatam has authored two books, secured nine patents and commercialised two technologies. He has mentored 17 Ph.D scholars and guided 54 post-graduate dissertations.

Dr. Parvatam's research spans functional genomics, biochemistry, tissue culture and secondary metabolite studies, with notable contributions to advanced genomics in crops like coffee and soybean. His work continues to shape contemporary food science and plant biotechnology in India.

Pourakarmikas' Day on Sept. 16: MCC Commr. releases posters

MCC Commissioner Shaikh Tanveer Asif and officials releasing Pourakarmikas' Day posters.

Mysuru, Sept. 9- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) will celebrate Pourakarmikas' Day on Sept.16 at Kalamandira, ahead of Dasara inauguration (Sept. 22). Traditionally observed on Sept. 23, the event has been advanced by MCC this year to ensure full participation and to honour the frontline civic workers.

As part of the celebrations, sports and games will be organised on Sept.10 at University Pavilion Grounds. Events include cricket, throwball, athletics and other games for Pourakarmikas aimed at encouraging fitness and team spirit, stated a press release from MCC.

The grand celebration on Sept. 16 features felicitation of Best Performing Pourakarmikas in recognition of their dedicated service.

Cultural events showcasing the talents of Pourakarmikas and their families will also be held.

A grand lunch gathering, symbolising unity and appreciation for their contribution in keeping Mysuru one of India's cleanest cities, has also been arranged.

The official posters for the event were released at the MCC here recently by the MCC Administrator, MCC Commissioner, Chief Health Officer and the Deputy Commissioners (Administration, Development and Revenue) of the MCC.

MCC Commissioner Shaikh Tanveer Asif said that Pourakarmikas are backbone of city's cleanliness and hygiene efforts and this celebration is a token of gratitude for their invaluable service to society.

KPA hosts 3-day workshop on modern policing practices

The team that participated in a three-day workshop on 'Creating the Future - Transforming Police Training in Karnataka,' at the Karnataka Police Academy (KPA) in Mysuru.

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BCT)- For the first time in the history of Police training in Karnataka, the State Police Training Division had organised a three-day special workshop at the Karnataka Police Academy (KPA), Mysuru, marking a significant milestone in modernising Police training in the State.

The workshop on 'Creating the Future - Transforming Police Training in Karnataka,' was exclusively designed for the indoor division Police officers and instructors serving in the 11 Police training units across Karnataka.

Inaugurating the event, KPA Director S.L. Channabasavanna highlighted the importance of embracing innovation and transformation in training practices.

"Change is the law of the world. As the world evolves, new paradigms surround us. Individuals or societies that fail to adapt risk losing relevance. Teaching and training systems — critical to human resource development — must embrace innovation and undergo model transformations," he said.

He emphasised that in today's fast-paced era of information and technology, Police training institutions must adopt global models and methodologies to stay relevant. The workshop was conceptualised to introduce globally aligned instructional techniques to equip officers with skills to deliver high-quality, modern training to recruits and serving personnel.

Cutting-edge training methodologies

The workshop focused on developing cutting-edge training methodologies to enhance the effectiveness of Police instructors.

Key areas included the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools in instructional design, group discussions, role play, case study techniques, crafting effective lesson plans, and improving personality development, professional growth and public-speaking skills of Police officers.

Participants received intensive, hands-on training in these areas, enabling them to become more effective trainers and mentors. Officers expressed their commitment to applying these new skills to improve training quality and to help develop competent, community-oriented Police personnel.

Panel of experts

The sessions were led by a distinguished panel of experts, including Prof. Ashish Mohan, Founder and Advisor of the Interactive Management Development Institute, Prof. C.G. Venkateshmurthy, former Director of the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL), Mysuru and Retired Professor of the Regional Institute of Education (RIE), Tejas, Cybersecurity Expert, Dr. D. Chandrashekar, Professor of Psychology, KPA and Naveena, Professor of Cybersecurity, KPA.

The event, coordinated by S.N. Sandesh Kumar, Assistant Director of KPA, saw the active participation of 40 Police officers and instructors from training units across Karnataka.

The interactive sessions encouraged participants to explore new approaches and rethink traditional methods, ensuring they are better equipped to train personnel to meet the complex challenges of contemporary policing.

Fake bank staff con

Rs. 21 lakh from industrialist

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (KS)- Miscreants in the guise of bank employees have allegedly cheated a city industrialist of over Rs. 21 lakh on the pretext of increasing the credit card limit.

On Sept. 4, the 76-year-old industrial, a resident of Yadavagiri, got a message from Mob: +4478327-25604, which asked for his e-mail ID, date of birth and the details of his HDFC credit card to increase the credit limit. The miscreants then called on his mobile phone and collected the details.

Later, the miscreants transferred a sum of Rs. 1,00,485 from the industrialist's credit card to an unknown account following which the industrialist blocked his credit card. But the next day, the miscreants transferred a total of Rs. 20 lakh from the IDFC Bank account of the industrialist, thus cheating him.

A complaint has been registered at city's CEN Police Station.

Screened at multiplex

Dasara Yuva Sambhrama Sub-Committee has already set the tone for the foot tapping event, with the release of its promotional song, belted out by renowned singer Vijay Prakash. The song was launched at Screen-4 of DRC Cinemas, a multiplex at B.M. Habitat Mall, Jayalakshmipuram here yesterday. The song was screened twice, setting the mood for the youthful event.

MCC Deputy Commissioner J.S. Somashekar, also the Co-ordinating Officer and Manoj Sougandh, has penned the lyrics for the song and Neethu Ninaad has composed the music. A colourful stage is being set up, while the road in front of Open Air Theatre is being illuminated.

Ashappa, Working President of Yuva Sambhrama Sub-Committee, said that about 450 to 500 college students are expected to showcase their talent, dancing to the songs and music, in consonance with 40 themes prepared by the Sub-Committee.

Mahila Sambhrama

An unique celebration titled Mahila Sambhrama, is planned on Sept. 13, during which, every task from stage management to programme presentation will be handled by the teams belonging to various women's colleges.

Sponsorship

J.S. Somashekar said, for the first time in the history of Yuva Sambhrama, sponsors had been invited for the event. For Sound and Lighting arrangements alone, about Rs. 40 lakh had been estimated, which has been sponsored by Mera and Samrudhi organisations. For promotional song too, reels had been invited from the public, and the best of five reels are used in the video shoot of the song.

On time performance

C. Shivakumar, District Manager of Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki ST Welfare Development Corporation, also the Co-Working President of Dasara Yuva Sambhrama Sub-Committee, said that instructions have been already given to the participating teams to be ready on time, to avoid abrupt ending to the performances due to paucity of time. More number of LED screens will be put up this time. Adequate numbers of barricades are being erected, as an enhanced security measure, besides taking utmost precautions to avoid chaos and rush and parking arrangements.

He also clarified that, no remuneration is being given to any of the film stars attending the inaugural ceremony.

Row over Dasara inauguration atop Chamundi Hill

Tension at Kurubarahalli Circle as Cops halt protest, counter-protest

Police deployed on Chamundi Hill Road in city this morning to prevent protest rallies.

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- Tensions ran high at Kurubarahalli Circle at the foot of Chamundi Hill this morning as Police intervened to stop two opposing marches over the controversy surrounding the inauguration of the upcoming Mysuru Dasara.

The Hindu Jagarana Vedike, Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP), and Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) had organised a protest march — "Chamundi Betta Chalo" — opposing the State Government's decision to invite International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate the festivities.

Protest halted, leaders detained

At Sangolli Rayanna Circle, the Police blocked the procession and detained several participants, including Krishnaraja MLA T.S. Srivatsa, who had arrived to support the protest.

Srivatsa reportedly urged the Police to allow a peaceful demonstration, but was refused.

"Why are you detaining people standing peacefully by the roadside when no prohibitory orders have been issued?" he questioned.

Those taken into preventive custody included BJP city president L. Nagendra and former Mysuru-Kodagu MP Prathap Simha, leaders Sandesh Swamy, Dr. Sushrutha Gowda, and M.U. Subbaiah and several women activists.

Over 500 Policemen, including personnel from the Karnataka State Reserve Police, Commando Force, City Armed Reserve and various Police Stations within Krishnaraja and Narasimharaja limits, were deployed.

The Police teams were stationed on the hill road as early as 6 am. Security was directly supervised by City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar, along with Deputy Commissioners of Police R.N. Bindu Mani and K.S. Sundar Raj.

140 protesters arrested

Groups of Hindu organisation activists arrived in batches from 7.30 am, attempting to join the protest. More than 140 individuals were arrested and transported to the CAR Grounds.

Police intensified security at Sangolli Rayanna Circle and Tavarekere, where protesters, wearing saffron shawls and chanting slogans in praise of Goddess Chamundeshwari, attempted to march towards Chamundi Hill but were intercepted.

Counter march blocked

Meanwhile, Dalita Mahasabha and Karnataka Hindulida Vargagala Vedike announced a counter march in support of Banu Mushtaq's role in the Dasara inauguration. However, the Police denied permission for both events, citing security concerns and the risk of communal unrest.

Both marches were ultimately blocked, with authorities maintaining strict control in sensitive areas to prevent escalation.

Only BJP activists arrested

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- During the Police intervention in the two opposing protests on Chamundi Hill road this morning, only BJP and Hindu Jagarana Vedike activists were arrested, while members of the Dalita Mahasabha and Karnataka Hindulida Vargagala Vedike, who were also part of the agitation that created a tense atmosphere, were not taken into custody.

Over 140 Hindu activists were transported to the City Armed Reserve (CAR) Grounds. In contrast, the Police 'convinced' the Dalita Mahasabha and Karnataka Hindulida Vargagala Vedike protesters to withdraw their agitation, after which they quietly dispersed from the area.

No comments: Banu Mushtaq

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- International Booker Prize winner Banu Mushtaq has refused to comment on the protests erupting in Mysuru over her selection to inaugurate this year's Dasara festivities.

Speaking to Star of Mysore from an undisclosed location abroad, where she is currently travelling, Banu Mushtaq responded briefly when asked about the controversy, saying only: "No comments." She immediately disconnected her phone.

Police detain Bengaluru couple by mistake

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- Following tensions on Chamundi Hill road this morning over two opposing protest marches, City Police blocked all entry points and connecting roads to the Hill, including Thavarekatte Road, Sangolli Rayanna Circle Road, Uthanahalli Road and Lalitha Mahal Road.

The blockade caused severe inconvenience to devotees heading to the Chamundi Temple for a darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari.

In a dramatic incident, a woman and her husband who had travelled from Bengaluru to visit the Temple were mistakenly arrested by Police at Sangolli Rayanna Circle, who assumed they were part of the protests.

Moments later, the distraught woman broke down in tears, explaining to Police that they had come to pray for their daughter's success in a job interview, as she had recently passed her exams with high marks.

The emotional scene unfolded in front of the media, with the woman wailing and pleading for their release, stating that they were innocent devotees.

Realising the error, senior Police officers intervened and immediately released the couple from custody. However, deeply shaken by the ordeal, the couple returned to Bengaluru without being able to offer their prayers at the Temple.

Remarks on Kannada culture

Simha seeks apology from Banu Mushtaq

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- Former MP Prathap Simha has accused Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq of making disparaging remarks about Kannada identity, including symbolic references to Goddess Bhuvaneshwari and traditional customs like turmeric and vermilion.

Speaking to reporters before his detention during the Chamundi Hill protest, Simha said that the controversy erupted soon after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah announced her name as the Dasara inaugurator.

"Mushtaq had made statements at literary events showing a lack of cultural sensitivity expected of someone inaugurating the State's grandest festival," he said. Simha declared he would withdraw his PIL filed in the Karnataka High Court if CM Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar ensured that Mushtaq apologises to the Kannada community for her remarks.

While acknowledging Mushtaq's literary achievements, Simha clarified, "My objection is not based on her religious identity but on her statements about Kannada culture and Goddess Bhuvaneshwari."

Simha further questioned whether someone who refuses to apologise could honour Goddess Chamundeshwari, presiding deity of Dasara. Taking aim at Chief Minister's silence, he added, "Siddaramaiah is yet to respond to concerns raised about Mushtaq's statements."

Maddur Bandh near total

Normal life hit

Mandya Deputy Commissioner Dr. Kumara seen interacting with the Police after spot inspection at Maddur taluk this morning.

Maddur, Sept. 9 (MR&BS)- Normal life was disrupted today, following a Maddur Bandh call given by various pro-Hindu organisations. The bandh was called in protest against the alleged stone pelting during a procession organised as part of Ganesha idol immersion in the town on Sunday (Sept. 7) night.

From commercial establishments to road side vending to others, all other public activities were shut, as part of the bandh call. The shutters of shops on Pete Beedhi, old Mysuru-Bengaluru Road, Market, T.B. Circle, Kolli Circle, Koppa Road, K.M. Doddi Road, Tumakuru Road, remained closed.

However, schools and colleges and cinema theatres functioned as usual. The KSRTC buses operated throughout the taluk, without any hiccup.

Meanwhile, Agriculture and Mandya District in-Charge Minster N. Chaluvarayaswamy has called for a peace meeting at a marriage hall later in the day.

Earlier in the day, Deputy Commissioner Dr. Kumara and Superintendent of Police (SP) Mallikarjun Baladandi, visited Maddur town to take stock of the situation.

Advocates staged a symbolic protest in front of Maddur Taluk Court, during which they resolved not to argue the case in favour of the accused persons arrested in stone pelting case, in the Court. The prohibitory orders under Section 144 Cr.PC that had been clamped in the town, as part of the augmented security measure, is extended up to this evening.

A strong contingent of 1,500 Police personnel summoned from Mysuru, Mandya, Tumakuru, Bengaluru, Ramanagar and Chamarajanagar districts, have been deputed in the town.

ADGP (Law and Order) R. Hitendra, DIGP (Southern Range) Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah and senior Police Officers are camping in Maddur. Apart from them, Ramanagar SP R. Srinivas Gowda has been deputed to Maddur, as an additional security measure, it is said.

Amidst this, a delegation of BJP leaders led by BJP State President B.Y. Vijayendra and Leader of Opposition in Legislative Assembly R. Ashoka is expected to visit the town tomorrow. They will be participating in Samoohika Ganapathi Visarjane (Mass Immersion of Ganesha idols), the permission for which is yet to be granted by SP's office.

MCC to use LiDAR tech

MCC Commissioner Shaikh Tanveer Asif highlighted that many property owners fail to report changes, such as additional floors or structural alterations, leading to under-taxation.

"There are hundreds of building violations within MCC limits that have escaped our notice — like excess floors built in violation of norms, non-compliance with setback rules and breaches of Floor Area Ratio (FAR). These not only violate urban planning rules but also cause significant revenue loss to the MCC," he said.

Tracking zoning and land use changes

Currently, zoning changes are tracked using planning records or manual inspections, which are often outdated and slow. "LiDAR will help us monitor zoning shifts, land development and urban expansion in real time. This will allow us to revise taxes more effectively and take corrective action quickly," Asif added.

The MCC has already digitised property records through the e-Aasthi application, issuing 52,827 e-Khatas, including 48,125 A-Khatas and 4,701 B-Khatas. "With LiDAR mapping, we expect to generate Property Tax revenues of around Rs. 400 crore, which will significantly strengthen MCC's financial position," the Commissioner stated.

MMC&RI to offer DrNB in Surgical Oncology

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (GA&VNS)- The National Board of Examination in Medical Sciences (NBEMS), New Delhi, has granted accreditation to the Department of Surgical Oncology, Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI), to offer super specialty DrNB (Doctorate of National Board) in Surgical Oncology.

The NBEMS has allocated two seats for the Department of Surgical Oncology of the institute, for which the admission process is expected to be held from January, 2026 through National Eligibility cum Entrance Test for Postgraduate (NEET PG).

Speaking to Star of Mysore, MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. K.R. Dakshayani confirmed the allocation of DrNB seats in Surgical Oncology and said that the institution had also applied to National Medical Council (NMC) to grant permission to offer MCh (Master of Chirurgiae) in Urology and Doctorate of Medicine (DM) in Nephrology.

This is only the second super-speciality training programme being offered by MMC&RI and the first DrNB surgical oncology training programme in Karnataka outside Bengaluru.

Currently, the full-fledged Department of Surgical Oncology has been functioning at Princess Krishnajammanni Super Speciality Hospital on KRS Road in city.

The Department consists of two faculty members Professor Dr. S.S. Prakash and Assistant Professor Dr. M. Srinidhi.

Mahouts, kavadis undergo health check-up at Palace

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (MTY&KS)- City's avanth bkg hospitals, along with Heart Foundation, had organised a complete body check-up for mahouts, kavadis, elephant caretakers and their family members at Mysore Palace premises this morning.

Over 30 hospital staff, including doctors, nurses and technicians, conducted various tests, including Blood Pressure (BP), sugar test, ECO and ECG among others, using medical equipment kept in two ambulances, which were stationed at the venue.

Consultant Physician at avant bkg hospitals Dr. N.C. Ini, Hospital Director Shobha Balakrishnagowda, Staff Nurses Shamanth and Syed Ismail, Marketing Head Neelu Sharma and others were present.

Swaraj Utsava on Sept. 13 at Pandavapura

Mandya, Sept. 9 (VNS)- Late Puttannaiah Foundation and Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) will be jointly organising Swaraj Utsava on Sept. 13 at Pandava Stadium in Pandavapura to promote comprehensive development and growth of villages. The event will include exhibitions on 11 different subject and demonstrations from 10 am to 5 pm.

Speaking to media persons, Melukote MLA Darshan Puttannaiah said, more than 30 national and international companies will be taking part in the event.

"The Swaraj Utsav will feature exhibitions on various subjects including agriculture, health, economic self-reliance, technology, youth empowerment, entrepreneurship and education among others. The event has also been organised to promote Melukote's history, tradition and culture. We also aim to promote Melukote as a tourist hub through 'Namma Halli, Namma Hemme, Namma Baduku Swarajya Gramadede' slogan," he added.

Kala Saptami weekly cultural programme launched at JCAC

Sukanya Ramgopal on ghata tarang, ghata & konnakol, Vani Manjunath on flute and Lakshmi Rajashekhar & Deepika Sreenivasan on mridanga presenting 'Laya Raga Samarpanam' on the occasion.

To infuse Mysuru's cultural calendar with weekly vibrancy, Jagannatha Centre for Art and Culture (JCAC) in Vijayanagar 1st Stage has launched a new series titled 'Kala Saptami' — a weekly celebration of art and culture to be held every Wednesday.

These midweek soirees will showcase music, dance and other cultural performances, inviting art lovers to experience the diversity and depth of Indian performing arts.

JCAC, the modern, multi-faceted complex, is a unique hub of artistic expression, housing a cluster of auditoriums equipped with state-of-the-art facilities.

Designed to be a sanctuary for artistes and connoisseurs alike, JCAC features two open-air theatres, a fully air-conditioned indoor auditorium and seven expansive galleries, all adaptable for a wide range of cultural and artistic pursuits.

On Sept. 3, the inaugural event of 'Kala Saptami' was formally launched by Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy and Dr. C.G. Narasimhan, followed by a mesmerising performance titled 'Laya Raga Samarpanam' by the all-women ensemble 'Sthree Thaal Tarang' from Bengaluru.

At the heart of this ensemble is Vidushi Sukanya Ramgopal, an eminent ghata virtuoso known for her innovative explorations in rhythm (laya) and sound. Her musical experiments with various percussion instruments — from Tātha, Sushira and Ghana to Avanaddha vadya — reveal her commitment to both tradition and innovation. In her hands, the humble ghata transforms from a rhythm-keeper to a melody-maker. Through the unique concept of Ghata Tarang, she places 6 to 7 ghatas before her, each tuned to different pitches and performs ragas such as Kunthalavarali, Varamu and Valachi — blending rhythmic intricacy with melodic depth. Sukanya's ensemble, notable for being entirely composed of women artistes, delivered a performance that was both sophisticated and accessible. She was accompanied by Vani Manjunath on flute and Lakshmi Rajashekhar & Deepika Sreenivasan on mridanga.

The concert opened with a Varna — 'Vanajaksha' in Raga Behag, composed by Vidwan T.R. Subramanyam. This was followed by a soulful invocation to Lord Ganesha through 'Maha Ganapathim' in Raga Nata, a beloved composition by Muthuswami Dikshitar enriched with imaginative kalpana swaras.

The highlight of the evening was undoubtedly the Ghata Tarang segment. The piece 'Anandam,' composed by Sukanya in Kunthalavarali, marked the beginning of the melodic journey on ghata. With graceful alapana, vibrant swara kalpana and engaging neraval, the ghata revealed its melodic soul, blurring the lines between rhythm and raga.

Further compositions in Varamu and Valachi continued to captivate the audience, with energetic rhythmic support from Lakshmi and Deepika on the mridanga. The Thani Avarthana segment was particularly striking, as it featured a rhythmic dialogue between the mridangas, ghata and Sukanya's own lively konnakol. Her creative approach — uttering jatis using swaras like 'sa pa sa' and even words like 'Shiva Shiva' and 'Janardhana' — was both entertaining and educational, drawing thunderous applause from the audience. The grand finale was a spirited Tillana in Raga Brindavanasaranga, bringing the curtain down on an evening that seamlessly blended tradition, innovation and artistic excellence.

With the launch of Kala Saptami, Mysuru has embraced a new tradition — one that promises to nourish the city's cultural soul every Wednesday.

'Bhagiratha Vijaya' yakshagana staged at K. Hemmanahalli

Mysuru, Sept. 9- A 'Bhagiratha Vijaya' yakshagana open-air performance was held at Sri Mahalingeshwara Temple in K. Hemmanahalli, located on Gaddige Road (Bogadi 9th km) on the outskirts of the city, on Sept. 5.

Hundreds of yakshagana enthusiasts enjoyed the performance, which began at 6 pm and concluded at 11 pm.

Amidst light rain outside, the vibrant sounds of chende, maddale and bhagavatike inside, along with the nine emotions (navarasas) portrayed by the yakshagana characters, captivated the audience.

The story of the yakshagana revolved around Emperor Sagara's Ashwamedha Yaga, the theft of the sacrificial horse, and the untimely death of his sons who went in search of it.

Sagara's grandson, Bhagiratha, performed penance to please Brahma, Vishnu and Maheshwara, ultimately bringing the sacred Ganga River from the heavens to Earth.

The performance was presented by the renowned Sri Mahaganapathi Yakshagana Mandali from Nidle, Dharmasthala, featuring popular artistes from Sri Dharmasthala and Kateel Hanumagiri in Dakshina Kannada. Organisers M. Ganesh and Anantavardhana were present on the occasion.

Krishna and Kuppalli's Kuvempu Pratishtana Assistant Secretary Prof. Kalachannegowda releasing a book on Poornachandra Tejaswi.

Mysuru, Sept.9 (MTY&DM)- Noted Publisher B.N. Sriram observed that Poornachandra Tejaswi's novel 'Carvalho' shattered the established models of literature that glorified hero and heroine characters, the tussle between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law and the like.

He was speaking at 'Carvalho-50: Tejaswi and The Environment,' an interaction meet marking the 50th anniversary of late writer Poornachandra Tejaswi, organised under the joint aegis of Abhiruchi Prakashana, Mysuru Pustaka Prakashana, Federation of progressive organisations, Manava Mantapa, Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS), DSS and Niranthara Foundation at Kiru Rangamandira in Kalamandira premises here yesterday.

Replying to a question by noted wildlife photographers Krupakar and Senani, Sriram, who was an associate of Tejaswi, said that Tejaswi always wanted to grow without taking the name of his father Rashtrakavi Kuvempu. Tejaswi never took his father's name in his growth as a writer, he said adding that Tejaswi grew in the literary world out of his own strength.

Replying to a question on how the literary world received 'Carvalho' when it was first published, Sriram said that while some writers said that Tejaswi was a science writer, several others described the book as a great one. Lankesh wrote a very good review about the book, he said adding that Tejaswi, who was a Kannada Post-Graduate student, developed interest in Science. Recalling that Tejaswi used to often visit the University of Mysore Library, where he read journals and articles on Literature and Science, he noted that Tejaswi was greatly influenced by National Geographic magazine in developing interest towards science.

Senior writer Prof. Rajendra Chenni, who spoke after inaugurating, warned against Science becoming a tool of humans for destruction.

Pointing out that Science can be dangerous and disastrous if it develops Atom and Nuclear bombs, he expressed concern that Science is being misused for waging a probable Third World War. Science should never be used for destruction of nature and mankind, he added.

Prof. Chenni dwelled on Tejaswi's literature, his environmental thoughts and life principles.

M.V. Krishna, a farmer from Malavalli, shared his experiences on his association with Tejaswi, while Kadidal Prakash, Associate Secretary of Kuppalli's Kuvempu Pratishtana spoke about the multi-dimensions of Tejaswi's life and Raghavendra Mudigere of Pustaka Prakashana, spoke about life and times of Tejaswi.

Publisher Abhiruchi Ganesh and others were present.

Guest lecturers stage demonstration against discrimination in appointment

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (MK&DM)- Guest lecturers, under the banner of State Government Degree College Guest Lecturers Co-ordination Committee, staged a demonstration in front of the DC Office here yesterday, demanding an end to discrimination between UGC and non-UGC qualification in appointments and to address the crisis regarding guest lecturers serving in the academic year 2025-26 at the Government-level itself.

They said, more than 15,000 guest lecturers are serving in 432 Government Degree Colleges in the State for the past several years, out of which 5,623 are UGC qualified and 5,353 non-UGC qualified. Pointing out that most of them have M.Phil qualification, they said that though they are not UGC qualified, they are imparting quality education to students out of their experience and skills, they maintained.

Contending that the guest lecturers are not getting due benefits and facilities, they said that 70 percent of the Government Colleges are dependent on the service of guest lecturers. Now with the crisis brewing due to discrimination between UGC and non-UGC qualification, which has badly hit classes in colleges, the Government should intervene and solve the crisis, they urged.

Committee State President Somashekar Shimoggi, office-bearers Diwakar, Rajesh Kumar, B.S. Nagaraj, M. Sudarshan, Krishnamurthy, N. Sharath, Ajit Kumar and others were present.

Maddur violence

MP Yaduveer seeks arrest of stone pelters

Mysuru, Sept. 9 (BLU&BCT)- Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar has strongly condemned the stone-pelting incident during the Ganesha idol procession in Maddur, urging the State Government to take decisive action instead of issuing what he termed "irresponsible statements."

Speaking to reporters in New Delhi, Wadiyar alleged that communal disturbances have become increasingly frequent since the Congress Government took power in Karnataka.

"Police must arrest those who pelted stones at the peaceful idol procession. The Government is failing in its duty to protect citizens and is instead making careless remarks," he charged.

Media reports revealed that, apart from stones, iron rods were also hurled at the peaceful procession. Calling it a serious lapse in law and order, Wadiyar demanded the immediate arrest of those behind the violence and stressed the need for strong preventive measures to avert such incidents in the future.

Yaduveer Wadiyar

Seeks clarification on Dasara inauguration

Wadiyar also weighed in on the controversy surrounding the invitation extended to International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate this year's Dasara festivities.

He urged Banu Mushtaq to clarify her previous remarks about 'Kannadambe' and Goddess Bhuvaneshwari before accepting the honour.

"If she assures that her participation will not hurt Hindu religious sentiments, we have no objection," Wadiyar said. "However, if she proceeds without addressing her earlier controversial statements, we will strongly oppose her involvement in the inauguration," he warned.

WORD OF THE DAY

Sanguine

Pronunciation: SANG-gwin (Adjective)
Meaning: Sanguine is a formal word that today almost always describes someone who is confident and hopeful, or something that shows confidence and hopefulness. Sanguine can also describe something that is bloodred in color, something involving or relating to bloodshed, or a person's reddish complexion.
Origin: If you're the sort of cheery, confident soul who always looks on the bright side no matter what happens, you may be described as sanguine. Sanguine traces back to the Latin noun sanguis, meaning "blood," and over the centuries the word has had meanings ranging from "bloodthirsty" to "bloodred," among other things in that (ahem) vein, so how did it also come to mean "hopeful"? During the Middle Ages, health and temperament were believed to be governed by the balance of different liquids, or humors, in one's body: phlegm, black bile, yellow bile, and blood. Those lucky people who were governed by blood were strong, confident, and even had a healthy reddish glow (all that blood, you know) — they were, in a word, sanguine. In time, the physiological theory behind the humors was displaced by scientific medicine, but the word sanguine is still commonly used to describe those who are cheerfully confident.
Example: "[David] Corenswet is remarkably sanguine about a film that has been the subject of immense scrutiny. The trailer is the most watched in the history of either DC or Warner Bros. Though he may not want the burden of Superman's success or failure on his, yes, broad shoulders, it will land there anyway." —Eliana Dockterman, Time, 1 Apr. 2025

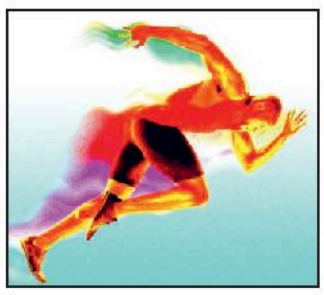
PHRASE OF THE DAY

Run Like the Wind



Meaning: The phrase 'Run Like the Wind' means to run very fast.
Origin: No one is really certain of the origin of the expression 'run like the wind,' but what is known is that early horse racing fans urged their favourites to run like the wind. Considering that, during the days before mechanized vehicles, horses and other animals could only be outrun by the wind.
Example: "She's very slight in build and she can run like the wind."

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
